THE SECOND BATTERY HOME

TOUR OF DUTY AT CAMP HOWARD CAR-ROLL ENDS WITH INSPECTION.

GENERAL M'LEWEE PRAISES THE MEN FOR THEIR EXCELLENT WORK AND THEIR CONDITION AT

The 2d Battery, Captain Richard Wilson, won additional glory at Camp Howard Carroll Yeste The men gave an exhibition of practical field duty which called forth praises from the officers who ere visiting the camp to observe the work. The was a perfect one for military manoeuvres, ad the men seemed to enjoy their work. Even the horses, with only two days of training, fell into line and followed the bugle commands with less urging from drivers and riders than on the preceding days of camp duty.

They are most apt scholars," said Captain Wilson, speaking of the horses, "and if we could rehere a few days longer we would show you wonders, even with this green material."

There were fewer spectators at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday than on Sunday, but those who came were rewarded by a most interesting spectacle. Many were surprised at the proficiency the artillerymen. In the fringe of people around the park there were men who looked on the proceedings with the eyes of severe critics-men who had seen artillery manoeuvres at Aldershot and Spandau, and who knew every detail of the regulations and lactics. Then there were others who were ignorant all technicalities, but all seemed pleased with the soldierly bearing of the men, who handled their horses with the skill of cowboys, and manipulated the heavy field pieces as though they were toys, and when the cannon belched forth clouds of powder and smoke, and woke the echoes of the green hills, encireling the picturesque parade ground, all ap-

As on the first day of the camp tour, reveille was sounded at 5 a. m. and stable call at 5:29 a. m. Fifteen minutes later assembly was sounded, and at 7:19 the men were called to breakfast. Breakfast and all meals at Camp Howard Carroll have been prepared there by members of the command de tailed for that purpose. The men took pride in saying that they had no caterer on the ground. This department of the camp was looked after by Quartermaster S. R. Kelly and Guldon-Sergeant Love. Men have gone on field duty less than a year ago," a visiting officer said yesterday, "who, when meal time came, sat down at a regularly laid table and chose their meal from a bill of fare on which there were such items as chicken fricassee, lobster salad and ples of all kinds. With some commands ple seemed to be a weakness, and the State paid for hundreds of these specimens of Yankee cookery. Remembering this, it seems doubly refreshing to see these men eat their home-made, nourishing

"And don't forget," said a member of the command, "that we pay for them ourselves." The morning drill was dispensed with, but the men were kept busy with their herses, equipments and pieces, and making arrangements for the review, inspection and muster, which were the features of the day. At about 10:20 a. m. General McLewee, Inspector-General, arrived at camp and was received by Captain Wilson. Colonel Sunger, of General Carroll's staff; Colonel Greene and Major Lee, of General McLewee's staff, were with Cap-"There," said one of the many bleycle girls, pointing to General McLewee, "there, that's Governor Morton, Now, does he look too old to be President? Weil, I guess not!" And then, pointing to where Colonel Lee stood, the knowing miss said: "And that officer-tnat's General McLewee. He's the whole thing."

the whole thing."

The battery moved out upon the parade-ground at 11 o'clock and, after going through a few evolutions, was reviewed by General McLewee and his staff. The troops then passed in review at a walk and at a tret. The inspection which followed was a close and searching one, and although it lasted a long while and the visitors saw nothing but a few mounted officers riding leisurely through the open ranks, all remained to see the drill which followed.

open racks, all remained to see the drill which followed.

The official records show that the officers—Captain David Wilson, First Lieutenant W. L. Flanagan, Second Lieutenant Lansford F. Sherry, Second Lieutenant A. M. Jacobus, and the surgeon, First Lieutenant A. F. Brugman—were all present, and that of the seventy-seven men only three wasts absent. The spirit which pervades the organization was shown by Veterinary-Sergeant Burtls, who came from a sick bed to appear in uniform and be counted "present."

The drill was highly interesting, and the firing, by piece, platoon and battery, which was done in all directions and with remarkable precision, showed the proficiency of the artillerymen, and furnished an unusualty fine spectacle. It was a dusty and a fired body of men that rode back from the paradeground after the drill, but they seemed to feel better for the exercise, and the men looked happy when Captain Wilson, before dismonstring, congratulated them on their fine appearance, and told them that the Inspector-General had sald much in their praise.

General McLewee said later to Captain Wilson that he was highly pleased with the appearance them that the Inspector-General had said much in their praise.

General McLewee said later to Captain Wilson that he was highly pleased with the appearance and with the work of the battery, and that it was a pleasure to inspect a body of men who seemed to realize so fully their duties as members of the National Guard. Colonel Sanger was also entusiastic in his praise of the command.

The battery broke camp at 3 p. m., and returned to the armory by way of Broadway, St. Nicholasave., One-hundred-and-diffeenth-st. and Frith-ave. All agreed that the tour at Camp Howard Carroll had been one of the most successful in the history of the battery.

PLANS FOR A NEW HOSPITAL.

BOTH WHITE AND COLORED PATIENTS TO BE TREATED-MORE FUNDS NEEDED.

A movement is now under way to establish a hospital for the treatment of both colored and white patients, and in connection with it a free dispensary and a training school where both col ored and white women may learn how to care for the sick and become trained nurses. The hospital s to be known as the McDonough Memorial Hospital, and the members of the association of that name are trying to raise the necessary funds to start the work. The dispensary is already in operation at No. 125 West Thirtieth-st., and since Feb ruary 15, when it was first put in operation, more than three hundred poor patients have received treatment for a uniform charge of 10 cents. The dispensary is in charge of Charles F. Runkel, a figbruggist at Thirty-first-st, and Seventh-ave., who operates it free of charge.

It is proposed to have a house staff of both colored and white physicians, who have been selected as being especially fitted for the work. The consulting staff is composed of men who are at the head of their profession, and many are authorities in their special branches. It is also proposed to have matters so arranged that when a physician finds hos pital care and treatment necessary he can have his patient removed to this hospital and there con-tinue his treatment to a successful ending, when oftentimes it would result fatally at the patient's tome, owing to the lack of proper and trained Already $700 has been subscribed for the new work W. Ray.

Already $700 has been subscribed for the new work, but as much as $2,500 will be necessary before a start can be mude and the work pushed along. The project originated five years ago, when the Afro-American Hospital Association was organized by Dr. W. H. McKenier, of No. 127 West Twenty-sixth-st. A group of colored physicians were obtained, and the intention was to have the hospital open solely to colored patients, but at the end of a year the association was disbanded. Some time afterward the present association was formed, but the plans were so changed as to allow the admittance of white patients and physicians, and to have no discrimination as to race, color or creed. The officers of the Board of Directors are G. W. Allen, of No. 71 Broadway, president; Charles F. Rinkel, vice-president, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Graham, No. 237 West Forty-first-st., secretary, and the Rev. Granville Hunt, of No. 101 West Thirty-first-st., treasurer. The other members of fine Board are Mrs. Sarah Garnet, Mrs. Victoria Earle Matthews, Dr. J. J. Noll, the Rev. Henry Miller, A. Campbell and S. Rosenstock.

ALLEGED BOY ROBBERS CAUGHT.

THE BOYS ACCUSE EACH OTHER AND A THIRD ONE, YET UNCAPTURED.

Vincenzo Domonico Leoni, eight years old, of No. 222 East One-hundred-and-fifteenth-st., who was ar rested Sunday for stealing a box containing $400 worth of jewelry from Francisco Petri, was arraigned before Magistrate Brant at the Harlem Court yesterday morning. He said that his confed erate was the real thief, and that they had first buried their plunder in a lot, and that afterward the other boy dug it up and carried it away.

Petri, who is a wholesale produce dealer in the Harlem Market, said that while moving Saturday afternoon he had placed in a basket $1,000 in money that he had drawn from the bank, with the box containing jewelry. The money lay directly under the box. When he found that the box had been stolen Pecci Juliano, nine years old, of No. 340 East One-hundred-and-tenth-st., told him that Leoni had taken it. Leoni's arrest followed.

Leoni's alleged confederate was Emilio Comantl. eight years old, of No. 329 East One-hundred-and-fourteenth-st. He was arrested yesterday, and proved to be a frail little boy, very small for his years, and lame. The little fellow denied that he had been concerned in the theft of the jewelry. He said that he saw Leoni and another boy, whose name is suppressed by the police, run away with the box from Petr's house, and that he afterward saw them sell some of the contents of the box to a strange man for $6. The box, Comanti says, contained watches and rings and other jewelry. Comanti was sent to the Gerry Society, and the police are now looking for the third boy afternoon he had placed in a basket $1,000 in money

THE CHIEF AT HEADQUARTERS.

MR. CONLIN ON DUTY AGAIN AFTER HIS TRIP

Chief of Police Peter Conlin, who returned from his trip abroad Sunday, was back at his post at Headquarters yesterday morning. He reached Mulberry-st. about 10 o'clock, and was at his desk in a vacation coming to him. He said he would take this time in sections in the summer months. Now that Chief Conlin is back at his post, Inspector Cortright, who has been acting chief, resumes charge of the Second Inspection District, and Captain Chapman, who has been acting inspector, goes hack to his precinct, the Mercer-st, station, Chief Conlin wore yesterday for the first time the gold shield presented to him by the Veteran Corps, 65th Regiment, just before he went away.

Yesterday afternoon Chief Conlin received a huge horseshoe of flowers from his office staff. The words "Welcome Home" were set in the piece. Several other floral designs were sent him. Commissioner Parker and the Chief had a long conference in the afternoon.

SHE SAYS THE SCULPTOR LEFT HER.

MRS. J. L. WARREN HAS NOT SEEN HER HUSBAND

Sarah Warren obtained an order from the Supreme Court yesterday morning for service of law papers on her husband. John Lawrence Warren, by publication. Warren is a sculptor and modeller of work at the Congressional Library at Washington. Mrs. Warren has not seen him since May 11, 1894. She wants an absolute divorce

The affidavits show that Mrs. Warren met the sculptor at the World's Fair in 1832, and they were married in September of that year. She was obliged to go to Cornwall, England, a year later on account of her health, and on her return to New-York she went to her mother's, at No. 19 Fifth-ave., later on taking apartments with her husband at Sixty-ninth-sic and Columbus-ave. Then Warren deserted her, she says. She learned that he had informed a sculp-tor friend of his, named Joseph Lambertt, of No. 24 Washington Square, and a Mrs. Walsh, who lives in Chicago, that he had a wife and child in Phila-delphia at the time of the marriage in Chicago to the plaintiff.

Daniel C. French, scatter went to her mother's, at No. 19 Fifth-ave., later on the plaintiff.

Daniel C. French, another sculptor, and a friend of the Warrens, undertook a journey to Washington in order to hear from Warren the facts of his life and whether he had already been married, but he brought back word that Warren had gone to the

Mrs. Sheldon is now writing a book dwelling upon this part of the country. She said in referring to the South: "My visit to the South has not been so extended as I would like to have had it, but even in the short time that I was there what impressed me most was the great possibilities that the country affords. The prospects for developing the mining and agricultural resources of the country have impressed me as being more promising than in any other country in the world. The soil is rich and of great fertility. The mines are also of great richness and they have hardly been tapped as yet. Manufacturing industries are springing up, and with such a wealth of material the country ought to advance with great strides. I am going back to the South as soon as the cotton is ready to be picked, and after that I shall sail for England. While I am acting in my own individual capacity, yet I wish to enlist the sympathy and interest of the English capitalist in the resources of the South and hope to gain for it the recognition that it deserves, and which will come when it is builded up by capital." and agricultural resources of the country have

MR. BARKER IN NEED OF REST.

President Barker, of the Tax Department, was sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to be able to return to work again yesterday, but he is by no means fully restored to health. Mr. Barker's friends think that he needs a long respite from labor and that he has richly earned it.

THEY WANT A ROOF GARDEN ON A PIER. The Committee on Docks of the Board of Aldermen will at the meeting of the Board to-day pre-sent a report asking the Dock Board to build a roof garden over the pier at East One-hundred-and-twelfth-st., to cost about $30,000, and be about 250 feet long and 60 feet wide.

SCHOOL INSPECTORS SWORN IN. NEAR 6 TAV.

FITZSIMMONS GOES FREE.

MAGISTRATE SIMMS DISCHARGES THE PU-GHIST, WHO WAS ACCUSED OF STRIK-ING A SMALLER MAN.

Robert Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, was a prisoner at the Jefferson Market Court for a short time yes-terday, and was charged with a cowardly assault upon a little tailor, but he was discharged by Magistrate Simms after a hearing. The little tailor is Samuel Rosenberg, of No. 297 West Twenty-seventhand he cleaned a suit of clothes for the puglist. When Rosenberg had the temerity to go to the Hotel Bartholdi, where Fitzsimmons was staying, on Priday evening, and nel, for the $3 which the big prizethter owed him, he was assiulted. He testified in court yesterday that Pitzsimmons first refused to pay the bill, and then, catching him by the ear, swung him around with so much force as to throw him heavily to the floor. He declared at first that he was made unconscious by the assault, but later cald that he was not sure that he lost his senses after he was thrown to the floor.
Fitzsimmons later paid $2 to him. A clerk and a porter employed at the hotel were witnesses for Fitzsimmons in court, and declared that the pugilist had only pushed the tailor, and had not swung him about by the ear. Fitzsimmons also denied on the witness stand that he hurt the taller, but he admitted that he struck another man twice in the face Broadway cable car some months ago. in a Broadway cable of some home had used bed language to him, he said, and under similar circumstances he would use his flats in the same way. Magistrate Simma apparently agreed with the prizefighter, for he discharged him on the ground that there had been no proof of an on the ground that there had been no proof of an assault.

Fitzsimmons's escape from a fine was not a surprise to a number of well-informed New-Yorkers, who said yesterday that sympathy for bullies who make a practice of assaulting smaller and weaker men is sometimes shared by certain magistrates. It is one of the traits of a professional puglist to inflict insult and injury on weak and inoffensive men on the slightest provocation, and same of the magistrates are so well aware of the fact that they would be likely to believe a sworn statement of a man who had been assaulted by such a bully in preference to a denial by interested persons.

Puglists are lawbreakers at best, and every one of them ought to be behind prison hars. It would be a positive benefit and advantage to the community if Fitzsimmons were in prison for a long term.

ALLEGED SWINDLERS INDICTED.

THE TWO SEELIGS AND WILLIAM MATZNER, OF "B. BLANK." IN MURRAY-ST., TO BE HELD FOR TRIAL.

Henry and Franz Seelig and William Matzner. the members of the alleged swindling firm of "B. Blank," at No. 29 Murray-st., who were arrested by Captain Cross, of the Leonard-st, police station, were yesterday indicted and held for examination in the Centre Street Court. The police declare that the men have been swindling merchants from Maine to California, and believe that they have obtained goods fraudulently from nearly 1,600 business concerns, have sold the goods as quickly as possible, and have pocketed the money. In the magistrate's court the prisoners were held in $1.00 ball each for examination to-day, but later the Grand Jury ordered indictments for attempted grand larceny. In the formal complain, Assistant District-Attorney Battle alleges that on May 15 the defendants fraudulently attempted to obtain $450 from the firm of F. C. Howe & Bro. by ffering a carload of canned corn for that sum. The complaint also alleges that the defendants represented themselves to be the owners of the carad of canned corn, which had been consigned by the Ossipee Valley Canning Company, of Cornish, Me., to B. Blank, when, as a matter of fact, they did not own or have the right to sell the goods. The defendants will probably plead to the indict-

The investigation made by Captain Cross left no doubt in his mind that the three men were trading on the credit of the genuine firm of B. Biank, of No. 344 Greenwich-st. The scheme of the swindiers, he said, was made clear by papers which he found in the rooms they had bired at No. 29 Murray-st. They fitted up their offices there two months ago, hired a typewriter and began sending circulars by mail to bustness concerns all over the country. They declared in the circulars that they were doing a commission business under the name The police say that they adopted the name of a firm with a good rating in the expecta tion that many firms would look up the rating of B. Blank before sending goods in response to the circulars. When goods were consigned to them, they would, according to the police, be sold in a hurry at from 40 to 60 per cent of their cost, on the pretence that the firm needed ready monsy and was willing to sell for cash at a sacrifice. In soliciting goods for sale on commission they asked for sixty days credit, and the police think that they would have disappeared in a few days had they not been detected and caught. The capture was caused by the sending of some of the replies to the circulars to the original firm of it blank in Greenwich-St.

Henry Seelig, who is believed to be the leader, was formerly a dealer in sponges in Burling Slip, and failed in business. He then began to negotiate bogus commercial paper, and last year fied to Mexico to escape arrest. The police believe that he and the other members of the firm have obtained more than $50,000 by fraud in two months. H Blank before sending goods in response to the

TO CONTROL THE FOURTH-AVE. LINE.

METROPOLITAN TRACTION COMPANY WILL LEASE IT AND DO AWAY WITH THE HORSES.

The negotiations by which the Fourth-ave streetcar line, owned by the Vanderbilts, is to pass under the control of the Metropolitan Traction Company are almost completed. For some time these negotiations have been going on, but it is only lately that it became evident that an agreement was to be reached. Chauncey M. Depew yesterday pleted, but that he could not say definitely when it would be closed. "Of course, it is only an agreement," he added, "to lease the line to the Matropolitan Traction Company for a term of years, perhaps ninety-nine years. The line cannot be sold, but some co-operative arrangement will be made between the two companies that will be made between the two companies that will be mutually satisfactory."

Mr. Denew would not say anything about the probable changes to be made in the line. The Fourth-ave, line is a Vanderbilt property, and one in which Commodore Vanderbilt was interested. He built up the line, but of late it has not been equipped in a way to compete successfully with other traction lines in the city. It retained horses, and has never advanced with the improvements made in other roads.

Under the management of the Metropolitan Traction Company, however, a number of improvements are promised. It is said that a new motor-power will be used in place of horses, and that the rolling stock and other equipments of the line will be improved.

MUST NOT PARADE WITH ARMS.

Chief Conlin was informed yesterday afternoon that the Board of Officers of the 1st Regiment, Irish Volunteers, had held a meeting Sunday night and decided that the regiment should parade with arms on Decoration Day. The Chief said the regiment on Decoration Day. The Chief said the resiment had no right whatever to parade with arms, and added: "I hardly think that Colonel Moran, being an old soldier, will attempt to violate the Military Code of the State. If he or any of his subordinates should attempt to parade with arms they will find the police equal to the occasion."

ANOTHER RUMOR OF GANNON'S RETURN. The story was revived yesterday that Michael Max Schmittberger, who was indicted for bribery as a result of the Lexow investigation, had returned to town, and was negotiating with the him dismissed.

No one in the District-Attorney's office had heard anything about such alleged negotiation.

Gannon disappeared when indicted, and it was given out that he went to Ireland.

Last December he was reported to be in this city, and it was said that Gannon had never got further on his way to Europe than Staten Island.

POLICE COME DOWN ON A POOLROOM.

A RAID AND CAPTURE PIPTY MEN

Acting Inspector Brooks, in company with Capsecond-st. police station, made a raid last evening on the prolf-oom over the salvon at Twenty-sixth-st. and Third-ave which, it is alleged, is kept by Thomas Bernard, Bernard, four of his assistants and forty-five inmates of the room were captured The police also confiscated several blackboar, number of betting slips, two telephones, a a number of beiting sips, two telephones, and other paraphernalia connected with a well-regulated gambling establishment. The wire from the room led up through a stavepipe hole opening into the common of the building, and none of the other occupants of the building had knowledge that any unlawful proceedings were conducted on the premise.

Bernard is now under $2,000 bail awaiting trial on a charge of conducting a poetroom at Forty-second-st, and Seventh-ave. The evidence against Hernard on which he was arrested yesterday was secured through two of bis men, who gave information to the police.

When the police made the raid on Bernard's rooms must of the men present made a dash for the rear room, and a majority of them escaped. There were more than three hundred men in the rooms when Inspector Brooks, Captain Smith and their men inade the raid.

BAKERS IN HIGH GLEE.

THEY DECLARE THEIR FIGHT AGAINST THE BOSSES PRACTICALLY WON.

The East Side bakers who went on strike last seek to compel the bosses to comply with the Bakeshop Inspection law declared yesterday that the of which Soloman Danilovitz is chairman, was in session yesterday at Liberty Hall, in East Houstonst. Herman Brown, a notary public, was in at-tendance. Printed forms were given to all the bosses who called for them to sign, pledging thembosses who called for them to sign, piedging themselves to uphoid the bakeshop law, to pay the union scale of wages for ten hours' work and to do several other things. The bosses grumbled the most at being compelled to give a note for $25 indored by an owner of real estate. Chairman Danibovitz said that seventy of the bosses had signed the agreement and that there were about 130 still out.

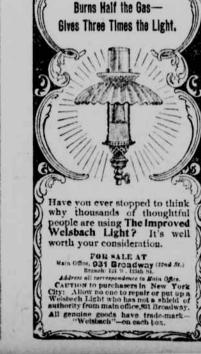

The backbone of the strike may have been broken, but there was still a great scarcity of bread in the Jewish bakeries yesterday. The price was increased one cent a loaf, and the supply baked during the night was exhausted early in the day. It was sald yesterday that there would be pienty of bread for everybody in a day or two.

GYNECOLOGICAL SOCIETY MEETING.

The American Gynecological Society will hold its wenty-first annual meeting to-day in the Academy of Medicine, No. 17 West Forty-third-st. The meeting will be called to order by the president, Dr. William M. Polk, and Dr. William T. Luck will deliver the address of welcome. There will be representatives present from all parts of the United States and from some parts of Europe, who will read papers and discuss subjects pertaining to their specialty. The meeting will continue three days. The business session will take place to-morrow at 5:30 p. m. with closed doors, but all the other meetings will be open to all physicians.

ork of getting a jury to try Roundsman Newburger in Part III, General Sessions.

Redner was stationed at Police Headquarters when he was arrested on December 31 for bribery. He is accused of attempting to blackmail Mrs Bachman, of No. 230 East Ninth-st., the keeper of an alleged disorderly house. Her husband had been arrested and Redner is alleged to have gone to her and offered to go light on the prosecution of husband for money. An appointment was made with Redner, and Mrs. Bachman gave him $190 in market money, which was found on him when he was soon afterward arrested by Central Office detectives and an agent of the Parkhurst society.

Among the talesmen examined was A. Augustus Burke, a fish dealer of No. 731 Ninth-ave. A num her of questions were put to him which he answered

"Do you belong to any society?"
"Yes," said the talesman, "I belong to Tammany Hall."

"That's a good society to be connected with," said Mr. Friend, "I have no objection to that and will accept you as a juror."

Mr. Friend then said: "The Judge is a Tammany Hall man, so is the Assistant District-Attorney, Mr. O'Hare, and I am also, so we might as well have a Tammany jury and we will all be honest men."

Mr. Hurke took the eighth seat in the jury box. The full jury was obtained at 3:30 o'clock, and court adjourned for the day.
